INDEPENDENCE DAY RALLY

H. E. SRI PRAKASA, the Governor of Madras MADRAS takes the Salute.

Annual Subscription Rupee 1.

OURSELVES.

The State Council was formed on 29th June, 1952 at the State Headquarters, Wenlock Park, under the presidency of Sri T. M. Narayanaswamy Pillai, Vice-President of the Association. The State Bye-laws were approved and the Office bearers as well as members of the Executive Committee were elected.

The Hon'ble Minister for Education, Dr. M. V. Krishna Rao presided over the public meeting and expressed his appreciation of the Movement and assured us of his support. Steps were taken immediately to inform the National Headquarters about the meeting of the State Council and election of Office-bearers. Also the Byelaws were submitted for approval. We have been informed that these are being attended to by the National Headquarters.

A Rural Scout Leaders' Camp.

A Rural Scout Leaders' Camp was held in the Kallar Reclamation area for Rovers in Rural Work. Mr. J. I. Muthiah, ran this Camp assisted by Mr. T. N. Bhuminathan and Mr. T. S. Santharaj.

Sea Scouting.

Sea Scouting was given a special impetus by Commr. S. P. Nair, the Resident Naval Officer. He has provided facilities for Sea Scouts to visit the Naval Ships and get training under Navy Headquarters here. Captain. Samson, Chief of Personnel, Naval Headquarters, Delhi visited our Sea Scouts and spoke to them on how they could prepare themselves for joining the Indian Navy.

Our Districts.

The various districts have now re-started their work for the year after the summer holidays and the re-opening of the schools and colleges.

Divisional Centres.

Reports have been received from the Kakinada Centre, the Madurai Centre and the Coimbatore Centre that work has been undertaken in consultation and co-operation with the Divisional Inspectors of Schools and as a result of the same greater enthusiasm is shown for work by schools. The value of these centres is more and more realised and appreciated. Advantage of these is taken by the Districts.

Independence Day Rally.

All over the State, Rallies were held to celebrate the Independence Day. Here, at Madras, a grand Rally of over 3,000 Scouts and Guides was held at which His Excellency the Governor of Madras presided and took the salute. Addressing the Scouts His Excellency expressed his great admiration for the Scout and Guide Movement and hoped that every boy and the girl in the state will join the Movement. He also sent a donation of Rs. 500 as a token of his appreciation of the Movement. This Rally has given a further impetus to Scouting and Guiding in the State.

Assistant Deputy Camp Chief Training Course

Since the merger a new training scheme was introduced and Camps on the basis of the new scheme were run by the Organising Commissioners. There was a constant demand for training courses in all the districts to provide a large number of trainees and to organise a Training Team for the purpose. A Training Course for Deputy Camp Chiefs had to be organised. This was scheduled to be held earlier. But the all Indian Training Commissioner's Conference held at Dodballapur in Mysore State was fixed up at the same time, and for that reason this camp had to be postponed, and now it will be held at our Coonoor Training Centre from 19th September to 25th September. 30 workers have been invited to take up the course. They are experienced men, since they were connected with the Provincial Training Teams before, and after this course is over they will be put in independent charge of training work in the Districts. This will facilitate more camps being run for the prospective Scouters.

Non-Continuous Courses

At a discussion we had with the National Camp Chief at the State Headquarters, it was suggested that Non-continuous courses should be permitted as an experimental measure to enable business-men and others who are not able to attend the continuous courses to equip themselves for Scout-leadership. The suggestion has been approved by the National Camp Chief and as soon as the Coonoor Camp is over such training courses will be undertaken by the State Headquarters.

Our National Organising Commissioner

Pandit Shri Ram Bajpai, our National Organising Commissioner and National Camp Chief toured in our State from 1st of September to 10th of September arriving Madras on the 31st of August. He visited Madurai, Tiruchy, Tanjore, Kumbakonam and Chingleput centres and attended rallies Scouters and Guiders, conferences, addressed public meetings and met a large number of workers and supporters both official and non-official. He left for Bangalore on the 10th on a visit to Mysore, Coorg, Travancore and Hyderabad States. His visit has been a source of help and inspiration.

Wenlock Park

The Hon'ble Minister Mr. N. Renga Reddi, who presided over the inaugural rally of the East Madras, paid a visit to our Headquarters Building, when it was pointed out that certain major repairs and improvements may be undertaken by the Public Works Department and on the assurance given to us we have submitted an application for the purpose. The P. W. D. Engineer has already inspected the building; and we hope certain improvements will be taken up soon.

Our State Commissioners who have been touring the State have been able to contact our District workers and encourage them and help them to carry on work on a better basis. A drive is to be given for proficiency and this is already being attempted in Madras and Coimbatore.

A Central Camp is being planned by the City and details have been already worked out. The Camp is to be held in December.

I am glad to mention that the Government has permitted the use of Educational Buildings, Sites and Grounds by the Scouts and Guides and a Government Order in connection with this is being issued to the Educational Institutions.

On the whole, work is being put on a progressive basis throughout the State and I am glad to report that merger in our State has been a success and we look forward to a strenuous period of work.

Editor.

Training for Citizenship

Governor's Advice to Scouts

"There is no nobler, no better and no greater school for true discipline and training for the making of a good citizen than the Scout Movement," observed H.E. Sri Prakasa, Governor of Madras, addressing a rally of Scouts and Guides held on 15-8-52 at the Presidency College grounds, Triplicane, to celebrate the Independence Day.

Expressing the hope that the Scout movement would spread more and more to bring every child in the State under it, the Governor appealed to them to remember that their allegiance should be first and foremost to the land of their birth and to so live as to be worthy of the freedom they had won.

About 2,000 Scouts and 1,250 Guides participated in the rally. The Governor on arrival unfurled the Indian Union Flag near the saluting base and inspected the rally accompanied by Major K. Raghavachari and Miss. Vedanayakam, District Commissioners. The inspection was followed by a march-past, the Governor taking the salute.

Mr. K. Venkataswami Naidu, Minister for Endowments, who is the State Chief Commissioner, welcoming the Governor, said that the Bharat Scouts and Guides was now one integrated organisation of the three old movements, namely, the Boy Scout Association, The Girl Guide Association and the Hindustan Scout Association. The movement had a total strength of 50,000 Scouts and Guides in the State and it was their hope to make this youth movement a great force.

Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhpathy, Secretary, read messages received from the Ministers in charge of Games and Rural Welfare.

H.E. Sri Prakasa said that he was sure that he would be voicing the feelings of them all when he expressed their gratitude to the memory of that great man who first conceived the ideals of a scout. "To-day when we are free and when we have no enmities or hostility or racial prejudices left in our hearts", he added, "it would be but right that on this great day when we celebrate the fifth anniversary of our freedom, we should remember Lord Baden-Powell who gave this great movement". It was given to few to see the fruition of their endeavours in their own life-time. But Lord Baden-Powell was one of the few who was destined to see that the great force of the brotherhood of youth that he had set in motion had resulted in such good throughout the world.

The Governor recalled the controversies and jealousies that existed between various types of boy scout organisations a few years ago and pointed out that to-day those controversies were hushed. Under the inspiring name and designation of Bharat Scouts and Guides, they now met under one banner for the fulfilment of their aims. Though the name might give the notion that they were a nationalist body as surely they were, still they would do well to remember that they were part of the world organisation and that all boys and girls all over the world were united in a common endeavour for world peace. Scouts and Guides were eminently soldiers of peace who pledged themselves to do good in simple things as they went about their daily avocations. That was how, while they did not find women in the ranks of soldiery, both men and women were brought together in the Scout movement. The Governor congratulated the boys and girls on belonging to this organisation and pledging themselves to do social service.

Scout Motto.

H.E. Sri Prakasa referred to the freedom struggle of India under the inspiring leadership of Mahatma Gandhi and pointed out that while they celebrated the Independence Day year after year, they should not forget their master's teaching that their movement had been, was and would ever be based on human brotherhood and love. It knew no hatred and meant no harm to anyone. If they remembered this simple truth, they would be fulfilling their hopes and ideals without any trouble. In the world there was much that made them sad and sick. But the Scout kept his head up all the time and was cheerful, for the great ideal embedded in his motto was "Be Prepared". It was good to have as one's ideal or aspiration all that was implied in that motto.

"I feel happy", the Governor said, "that 50,000 boys and girls of this State belonging to the organisation of Bharat Scouts and Guides are already learning to prepare themselves for all contingencies and I hope that this movement would spread more and more from day to day so that there is not one child in our State, rich or poor, who is not a member of this organisation and who is not receiving training which this organisation alone can give. In the days to come, many things may happen, for our freedom is still in its infancy and for long centuries we had forgotten the art of self-government as others were looking after our affairs. With their departure, great responsibilities have come upon us and thanks to the training that at least my generation has received at the hands of Mahatma Gandhi, we are able to carry on somehow or other. The anxiety in our hearts is great that the youth of the land should spring forth quickly to take our places which are being slowly vacated as they needs must be under the stress of Nature's law. The freedom of the country its greatness, all depend upon how you conduct yourselves in life. And I think there is no nobler, no better, no greater school for true discipline or training for the making of a good citizen than the great scout movement."

A nation's freedom, H.E. Sri Prakasa said, was of little value if its citizens did not respond to various situations as free men and women should do. "While you are no doubt joined up with the youth of all countries of the world in common brotherhood and sisterhood, you will always remember that your allegiance should be first and foremost to the land of your birth. I pray that you may so live as to be worthy of the freedom that we have won".

Mrs. Mary N. Clubwala, State Commissioner (Guides), proposing a vote of thanks, announced that the Governor had consented to become a Patron of their Association and would give a donation of Rs. 500. The Madras Government who was spending Rs. 25,000 on this movement, she urged, should spend at least ten times that amount if they should give the full benefit of scouting and guiding to the young people.

The function came to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

H. E. SRI PRAKASA ARRIVES AT THE RALLY GROUND.

Conference of Scout and Guide Leaders

A Periodical Conference of Commissioners and Secretaries of Bharat Scouts & Guides, Madras City was held at the Wesley High School, on Wednesday the 10th September, 1952. Mr. Janab Khazim Khaleeli, District Commissioner, Bharat Scouts and Guides, Madras Central was at home to the members of the Conference. Mr. T. R. Kothandarama Mudaliar, Assistant State Commissioner presided.

Mr. V. S. Ratnasabhapathy, State Secretary, welcoming the National Organising Commissioner, Pandit Shri Ram Bajpai, referred to the progress made in the State after the merger and the formation of State Council. He announced that the Assistant Deputy Camp Chiefs Course, that is to be held at Coonoor, Stanley Park Training Centre from 19th to 25th September, will train 30 workers, who will take up the training throughout the State. He thanked Pandit Shri Ram Bajpai for permitting the running of Non-Continuous Courses as an experimental measure to enable businessmen and others to equip themselves for Scout-leadership.

Major K. Raghavachari, District Commissioner submitted a report of the Independence Day Rally, held under the presidency of the Governor of Madras.

Mr. K. M. Khoshy, District Secretary, presented the report of the Central Camp Committee for holding a camp for 1,000 Scouts and a Camp for 1,000 Guides during the last week of December, 1952. The respective District Commissioners both the boys and the girls sections gave a report of the activities in their areas.

The question of having a Divisional Council for the city was discussed and it was finally decided not to have a Divisional Council for the City, as the work is done by the respective Districts and co-ordination is being attended to by the State Headquarters.

Messrs. S. Amudachari S.M.A. Samad, Jayaraj, M. Ram Mohan, M. D. Janardhanam, M. Theodore, Mrs. Peter, Miss. Joseph, Miss. S. Bakkiamuthu, Mr. V. Thyagaraja Pillai and others took part.

Pandit Shri Ram Bajpai addressing the conference, emphasized the need for Scout and Guide leaders setting an example in the matter of daily good turns which will be followed by the Seven lakhs of Scouts and Guides scattered throughout the country. This was the surest way to popularise the Movement. He also asked the Scout leaders to develop, rough weather scouting and not to be satisfied with fair weather scouting if the boys and girls should develop the quality of courage and grit. He expressed his appreciation of work done in Madurai, Tiruchy, Tanjore and Chingleput Districts which he visited recently.

The Indaba

The First World Scouters' Indaba took place at Gilwell Park, the International Scout Training centre, Chingford, England from 14th to 24th July 1952. India was represented by fourteen delegates coming from the following States as shown below :

Bombay	3	Bengal	2	Behar	4
Mysore	2	Rajasthan	1	Panjab	1
Madras	1

The Indian contingent was led by Sardar Hardial Singh of Taradevi, Simla. Sri S. R. Prasad of Mysore acted as his Deputy. Only eight of the contingent led by the Deputy leader left Bombay by S. S. Maloja on 26th of May, 1952. The rest joined the party in instalments. The leader arrived London by plane on 5th July. Before the contingent was fully formed the advance party had finished a wide tour in Scotland Northern Wales, Ireland and England, visiting many of the interesting places and scenes.

The contingent had been lodged at the Head-quarters of the 5th Clapham Scout Group through the direction of the Imperial Scout Headquarters. Most of the days the contingent cooked its own food and looked after its own affairs. The Scouters and Scouts and other Officers of the said Group showed extraordinary hospitality to the contingent.

The contingent moved to the Gilwell Park on the 15th morning and was assigned its place to lay-out its camp. In a short while seven tents were pitched and a beautiful and colourful gate-way was erected which was the tallest in the whole camp and attracted every camper and visitor. The two lady members of the contingent were provided accommodation in the Ladies' Section. The camps were very close to one another and each camp presented a different style. Gilwell began to be busy and buzzy in a short while. Good food was supplied in plenty from a supply Depot and each camp had to cook its own food.

The Indaba was opened by Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire. There were present 650 delegates representing 51 nations. At the opening the flags of these 51 nations were unfurled over tall poles and saluted, the delegates standing shoulder to shoulder not by contingent but mixed up. Lord Rowallan in his opening speech made the purpose of Indaba very clear and cautioned that there should not be over organisation so as to curb the freedom of delegates to move from camp to camp in order to establish contacts for fellowship and sharing. Col. J. Wilson the Director of the International Bureau directed the Indaba with the assistance of Mr. A. W. Hurl, the Indaba Commissioner and Mr. Thurman, the Gilwell Training Chief and an efficient committee of 50 experienced Scouters.

The programme consisted of theatrical performances, Cinema shows, Television, Cub, Scout and Rover demonstrations, demonstration by groups of handicapped children, camp fires, Social gatherings and excursions to Industries and places of importance in England. One night a two hour camp fire was televised. On the visitors' days more than five thousand cubs, Scouts, Guides, Rovers, Scouters and Old Scouts visited the camp each day apart from partrons and well wishers. All arrangements were pucca and there was no cause for any complaint.

The Indaba was a grand success though it was the First one. It looked as though it had been the product of experiences of several Indabas. Judging by the unique success one could say that the Indaba has come to stay. Those who conceived the idea of the Indaba and those who were responsible for the choice of Gilwell for its first venue and the expert committee in charge of arrangements need to be congratulated. A thorough spirit of International fellowship and unity prevailed from the beginning to the end and was indicative of the aim of the Scout movement for the International peace. Excepting for Russia all other nations, big and small participated in the fellowship. It can be said that never in the History of Scouting the World Brotherhood was so in evidence as at this Indaba.

The closing ceremony was conducted in the presence of the Duke of Gloucester who expressed gratification at the splendid success of the Indaba and wished the movement a brighter future. During the gatherings it was often sung "Gilwell, Oh Happy Land"

Well, Gilwell is not only a happy land but it is a wonder land for the High moral and spiritual standard it maintains. It has a personality and every one who sojourns there contributes to that personality leaving behind his sublimated spirit. Before and after the Indaba, Wood Badge Training courses in Cubbing, Scouting and Rovering were conducted. Two of the Indian contingent under went training in Cubbing,

Pakistan was represented by 9 delegates. The Pakistan and the Indian Union contingents co-operated splendidly in all the demonstrations. India as usual made a great impression on this International Group. On Sunday special services were arranged for the various denominational groups and there was also a Scouts' own which was led by the Arch Bishop of Canterbury.

It is needless to say that it was rare opportunity for the Indian contingent to have participated in this memorable event. We have taken back to our country many happy memories, the friendship of many new friends and perhaps above all else a renewed and greater belief in Scouting with boys.

Again the same 8 members of the contingent returned by M. S. Willam Ruys a Dutch liner after a short tour over the continent reaching Columbo on the 15th of August. Some of these passed through Madras and were guests of our State Association.

Sd. C. A. JOSEPH,
Representative, Madras.
